ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The Philosophy of ADR system is well stated by Abraham Lincoln: "Discourage litigation, persuade your neighbour to compromise whenever you can. Point out to them how the normal winner is often a loser in fees, expense, cost and time." Litigation does not always lead to the satisfactory result. It is expensive in terms of time and money. A case won or lost in court of law does not change the mind set of litigants who continue to be adversaries and go on fighting in appeals after appeals. ADR system enables the change in mental approach of parties.
